

CAREER OBSERVATION ORIENTATION PACKET

Thank you for your interest in participating in a Career Observation at Altru! Altru supports career exploration through a variety of programs including but not limited to: volunteering, clinical placement and career conversations. Each year, Altru offers more than 10,000 clinical hours to students in advance practice programs, provides clinical placement to more than 400 undergraduate students, and welcomes more than 300 volunteers.

To apply for a Career Observation, you must review this packet and complete the knowledge assessment on the Career Observation Application. This packet serves as your orientation to Altru as a Career Observation participant. The following information will be covered:

- » Career Observation participant roles and responsibilities
- » Security and parking
- » Altru mission and behavior standard
- » Privacy and confidentiality
- » Infection control

If role or department specific orientation is needed, your guide will do this with you at the time of your observation.

WHAT IS CAREER OBSERVATION?

Career observations allow participants to spend time following a guide in their desired field. During this time, participants learn about healthcare careers by observing their guide's day-to-day routines, learn about the skills needed for their role and ask education and career focused questions.

WHAT IS A GUIDE?

A Career Observation guide is the person you will be partnered with during your observation. This person is an expert in their field and will spend the observation period teaching you about their role and answering questions you may have. You must remain with your guide at all times.

PARTICIPANT ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Career Observation participants should arrive for their observation with a passion for learning and an open-mind to explore their field of choice. We encourage participants to have questions and observation goals prepared for their guide at the start of their observations.

Example questions to ask your guide:

- » What did your education journey look like?
- » What is the best/worst part of your job?
- » What are your next steps or career goals?

Example observation goals to share with your guide:

- » What are the top two things you want to experience during your observation time?
- » Are there any take-aways you need to bring back to your school?

PLANNING YOUR VISIT

- » Arrive on time. It is important to allow yourself adequate time to find appropriate parking and walk into the building.
- » You will not be permitted to eat during your observation so ensure you eat before you arrive.
- » Wear business casual dress and closed toed, comfortable shoes. As a general rule, clothing should cover a person from shoulders to knees.
- » Do not use scented products, such as lotions or body sprays, the day of your observation.
- » Altru is not responsible for lost or stolen valuables, so we recommend leaving valuables at home.
- » Follow all instructions provided in your confirmation email.
- » Be prepared to take notes!

CANCEL OR RESCHEDULE

- » Please notify us 72 hours prior to your scheduled experience if you need to cancel or reschedule. We cannot guarantee our ability to reschedule with a certain time frame.
- » If participants develop symptoms of illness, including but not limited to fever, chills, body aches, vomiting, diarrhea, and loss of taste or smell, prior to your observation, they will need to reschedule their experience.
- » Should you begin to feel unwell, warm, nauseous, or faint during your observation, immediately sit in a chair or on the floor and notify your guide.

DURING YOUR OBSERVATION

- » Observation participants must adhere to Altru Behavior Standards (see page 5). Failure to meet these standards will result in the remainder of the Observation being cancelled.
- » Protect patient privacy and confidentiality.
- » Always remain with your guide.

- » Altru reserves the right to cancel or ask Observation participants to leave due to unforeseen circumstances. We will attempt to reschedule should this occur.

CONTACT INFORMATION

Email any questions to CareerObservation@altru.org. Allow up to two business days for a response.

SECURITY AND PARKING

For the safety of our staff, students, patients and visitors, it is important that Career Observation participants follow standard security guidelines.

- » Park in an assigned employee/student lot. The map applicable to your Observation site will be shared in your confirmation email.
- » Have a state issued ID and be prepared to present it to confirm your identity.
- » Wear your student ID if applicable.
- » Wear an Altru issued badge indicating that you are a Career Observation participant.
- » Always remain with your guide.
- » At the end of your Observation, you must leave the building.

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Observation participants, encompassed as “staff” for the remainder of this packet, must abide by privacy and security standards that protect Protected Health Information (PHI) as set forth in the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (HITECH) and other federal and state statutes.

WHAT IS PHI?

Protected Health Information (PHI) is the identifiable health information about an individual’s past, present or future physical or mental health or conditions. This information including but not limited to paper, electronic (including social media) or verbal. Examples of PHI include but are not limited to: name, address, diagnosis, name of provider, test results, vital signs, billing data.

To maintain PHI, Altru staff shall only access, view and use the minimum necessary private health information need to carry out essential functions. Generally, PHI may not be disclosed to a third party without authorization of the patient. Observation participants should never disclose PHI and defer to their guide if a request for PHI is made.

WHAT IS A BREACH?

A privacy breach may have occurred if PHI is accessed used or disclosed in a way that is not allowed under the HIPAA Privacy Rule. Violating HIPAA privacy may result in up to $250,000 in civil penalties and up to 10 years in prison for criminal penalties.

INFECTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL

Infections are common and can be life-threatening. In healthcare, it is important to keep infections from spreading.

HANDWASHING

Observation participants must wash their hands in each of the below scenarios.

- » Before entering and upon leaving a patient room.
- » Before eating or drinking.
- » After using the restroom.
- » After contact with an inanimate object in the immediate vicinity of the patient.
- » Before wearing and after removing gloves.
- » Whenever the hands are visibly soiled.

Handwashing should occur using soap and water whenever the hands are soiled. When using soap and water, follow the below steps.

1. Wet your hands with warm water.
2. Apply soap to your hands.
3. Rub your hands together briskly for at least 20 seconds, covering all surfaces of the hands and fingers.
4. Rinsed your hands with water while pointing them downward.
5. Dry your hands thoroughly with a paper towel.
6. Use a new paper towel to turn off the water.

When hands are not visibly soiled, an alcohol-based hand rub (ABHR) can be used for handwashing purposes. Follow these steps when using an ABHR.

1. Apply the product to the palm of your hand.
2. Rub your hands together, covering all surfaces of the hand and fingers, until they're completely dry.

ISOLATION

Career Observation participants are not permitted in isolation rooms. Patients may be placed on isolation status due to highly contagious infections. Ask your guide how to identify isolation patients.

BIOHAZARD WASTE

Biohazard waste is disposed of in red biohazard trash bins. Biohazard waste includes but is not limited to items that saturated in blood or contain other bodily fluids/excretions. These items must be placed in red biohazard containers.

IF AN EXPOSURE OCCURS

- » Report the exposure to your guide immediately.
- » Thoroughly wash the area with soap and water.
- » Follow the guidance of your guide for next steps.

HOW TO PROTECT YOURSELF

- » Wash your hands frequently.
- » Refrain from touching your face, especially around your mouth, eyes and nose during your Observation.
- » If there is a potential for exposure to bodily fluids, do not enter the patient room.
- » If you have a safety concern, discuss it with your guide.
